tively Small Cost, Was Possible.*August 1 has been fixed as the date*for the opening of the hearing of the*litigation between the Pennsylvania*Railroad Company, the Mountain*Water Supply Company and the Dun-*bar Water Supply Company and the*Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and*more than a score of coal operators*in the Indian Creek Valley, the out-*come of which will determine whether*mine sulphur water shall be per-*mitted to flow into Indian creek and*thereby destroy the value of the*stream for domestic and engine pur-*poses. Judge J. Q. Van Swanenborg,*who will preside, has cancelled his*vacation in order to hear the case at*that time.*Hitherto there had been a belief in*certain well-informed quarters that*a compromise would be reached be-*tween the mine owners and the rail-*road and water companies on the*basis of joint construction of a sew-*er system that would carry the mine*water from the upper Indian Creek*Valley past the reservoir of the wal-*ter company, four miles from the*mouth of the stream, but the fixing*of a definite date for the hearing of*the case seems to have dispelled this.*The plaintiff companies seek to re-*strain the coal operators from drain-*ing mines into the creek, which is the*only natural means of drainage from*the valley in which millions have*been invested in coal acreage and op-*erations. By means of open ditches*and pipe lines at tributary stream*and road crossings it has been esti-*mated the mine water could be car-*ried by the reservoir at relatively*small cost. Unless this plan be adop-*ted either the operators or the water*companies must suffer heavy loss.*The flow of acid-laden mine water*is constantly increasing as mine op-*erations are extended and it is held*to be only a matter of a brief period*of time—a few years—until the wa-*ter in the creek will be rendered un-*fit for use for domestic purposes and*by the Pennsylvania Railroad for*watering engines. Like the coal op-*erators, the Pennsylvania and the*Mountain Water Supply companies*have millions at stake, the latter in*the imminent storage and pipe line*systems, the pipe line reaching al-*most to Pittsburgh, with a tributary*line to Brownsville.*The case involves one of the big-*gest property cases ever held in the*State of Pennsylvania. It will be*prosecuted by the attorney general*of the State aside from private coun-*sel. It is estimated that a month's*time would be required to hear the*case. It is for this reason that the*court found it necessary to cancel the*summer vacation plans. The cases*have been pending for months and an*early settlement is desired by all*parties concerned. Indications are*that appeals will be taken from the*judgments of the local court, regardless*of the outcome.*Boston Baseball of the city by the gunboats of Sun Yat been trying futilely to recapture his Company last night asked City Council for an appropriation to finance its departure to the coming convention of the Western Pennsylvania Firemen's Association this summer. It said about $1,200 was needed and added that because there would be no desire on the part of Council to have a poorly un-equipped department representing this city at the annual gathering.*The spokesman said they did not desire to have carnivals since there was so much opposition to them here but asked how the money is to be secured.

He mentioned the fact that one carnival company had offered the hose company $1,000 to show here.*"Nothing doing on a carnival," said Mayor Mitchell. "I don't think they are of any benefit to the city and I am opposed to them. I don't feel I can change my opinion. I am willing to help the fire boys in any way outside of a carnival."*He suggested that the firemen circulate a subscription paper and Councilman J. A. Cypher said he doubted if that plan would be accepted, adding the firemen had found that procedure too hard on previous occasions.
He also brought out that it was necessary to ask subscriptions to put on a Halloween celebration, and that once a year was all the firemen desired to do about asking for funds.*During the past two years it was stated, Mrs. Katherine Wallace had raised the funds. She will not do it again, the committee told Council.
The mayor suggested that the matter be put before the Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club. The committee said a special meeting of the hose company would be held tonight at which some plan might be formulated. The mayor will be acquainted with any action taken tonight and endeavor to aid the company in its appeal for funds.*Speaking of uniforms, the mayor said he did not want the firemen to think the city paid any portion of the strike situation will be discussed.*Among those who are expected to attend are C. W. Downs, J. L. Schick,

Gets Pleasant Surprise

About six months ago my father was very sick with his stomach which had been troubling him for several years. Three doctors said he had cancer and one said it was gall stones—all agreed an operation necessary but on account of his age I was afraid to risk it. I told a friend about it who said his wife had been through the same trouble and had been cured by taking Miss Weston's Remedy. I once bought a bottle for father and he is now as strong as a bear and eats more ham and cabbage than any three men. It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and kills the inflammation which causes practically all stomach liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. If the weak kidneys you must set the kidneys working right.

A Connellsville resident tells you how:

Mrs. W. Remage, 710 McCorleek Ave. says I have found Dr. John Kidney Pill to be a very good remedy. Several years ago I was troubled in spells with bad backaches. My back would pain constantly day and night and sharp cutting pains would bother me when I stooped over. At such times I could hardly straighten up. My spine was then in bad shape and acted poorly. I tried every and was troubled with headaches and dizziness. The last time I had an attack I used two boxes of Dr. John's Kidney Pill from Clancy Drug Store and they cured me of this trouble and I give the credit to Dr. John's Pill.

Please try it at once. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Dr. John's Kidney Pill. The same that Mrs. Remage had. Foster Nutt Co., Mt. Bush, N. Y.—Advertisement

There is no finer motor oil than ATLANTIC Medium

Good oil represents an insignificant item in car operating costs. Yet nothing is so vitally important in warding off heavy upkeep—or that rack-and-rattle that kills so much of the joy of motoring.

Use Atlantic Medium. It is the highest achievement in motor oil refining! Only the most suitable heat-resisting crude oil hydrocarbons are used in it, while fifty-five years of refining experience and twenty-five years of special study of automotive lubrication assure a quality and correctness that admit of no mistake.

The way Atlantic Medium retains its "body" under varying operation conditions is remarkable. Not a bearing that this oil will not reach; not pressure it cannot withstand; not a cylinder heat it won't resist. You can depend absolutely on Atlantic Medium to keep friction surfaces apart.

Ask definitely for "Atlantic Medium" and you'll never have occasion to go heavy on your purse for motor repairs.

Railways Men Run Up Total of 18 Runs; Opponents Get Two.

REDSOX IN TWO WEEKS

The West Penn team, rapidly developing into one of the strongest in the City League, last night easily defeated the Fayette Bakers, 13-2. The game only went for five innings or it is likely a record score would have been hung up.

A Frazier drove a ball over the left field fence but it was a foul and the longest hit of the game went to George, who tripped.

The West Penn and the Connellsville Malays play at Fayette Field tomorrow evening. The Malays are making their first appearance here this season and are reported to have a fast aggregation. J. W. Brown has assembled the outfit and he is predicting the railroads men will have to hustle to stay in the contest. The West Penn has been meeting with huge success so far on its schedule. Labak and Mullen will be the West Penn battery.

Just two weeks from today the old friends of Jack Quinn together with hundreds of other baseball fans of Fayette county, will assemble at Fayette Field to see the Independents meet with the Sunday Redsox. Quinn, it has been promised, will work at least the larger portion of the game. The veteran pitched his first ball game at Dunbar.

The Klafridales defeated the Bucket of Blood team of the West Side by a 6-0 score on the Poplar Grove diamond last evening. The contest went seven innings. Williams of the visitors featured with a home run.

Ridmore will be the attraction at Poplar Grove tomorrow evening. The game to be called at 5:30 o'clock.

KECKSBURG SUFFERS FIRST DEFEAT THIS YEAR FROM EVERSON

The Everson Firemen finally brought about the defeat of the Kecksburg nine on Saturday when the fire laddies got to that place and registered a 6-4 victory. It was the first set-back received by Kecksburg this season.

There was considerable hitting. Everson landing 15 safeties and the losers 10. There was a flock of doubles and one triple, the latter by J. Grablak, roundman for the losing team. The Kecksburg outfit rallied in the ninth and scored one run but the lead was too great to be overcome. Kecksburg plays at Everson on Wednesday.

Erskine Dale, Pioneer

By John Fox, Jr.

Illustrated by R. H. Livingston

Copyright by Charles Scribner's Sons And the ladies of his family bobbed their heads sadly in confirmation, for the steel-like barrier between them was so palpable that it could have been touched that night, it seemed, by the hand.

The two backwoodsmen had been laughed by the brilliancy of it all, for the boy had stood with Barbara, who had been allowed to look on for a while. Again my lord had summoned Dale to him, and asked many questions about the wilderness beyond the Cumberland, and he even had the boy to come up and shake hands, and asked him where he had learned to ride so well.

Before Barbara was sent home Hugh and Dave Grey, dressed with great care and in with exaggerated air of dignity and politeness, that fooled few others than themselves.
Hugh, catching Barbara's hand and repeatedly glancing at her, made straight for her, but Dave made straight for the side when he entered the room and bowed with great gallantry. To the boy he paid no attention, whatever and the latter stood with indignant and hate, stamped hastily away. But in a corner unseen he could not withhold watching the two closely, and he felt vaguely that he was watching a fightened bird and a snake. The little girl's wolf-composure seemed quite to vanish, her face flushed, her eyes were downcast, and her whole attitude had a mature embarrassment that was far beyond her years. The lad wondered and was deeply disturbed. The half overlooking and wholly contemptuous glance that Grey had shot over his head had stung him like a knife cut, so like an actual knife indeed that without knowing it his right hand was then fumbling at his belt. Dave too was noticing and so was Barbara's mother and her father, who knew very well that this smooth, sly, bold young fellow was deliberately lead-Hugh into all the mischiefs he could find. And did he leave the girl so until she was taken home. She had, too, left then and went back to the tavern and up to his room. Then with his knife in his belt he went down again and waited on the porch.

Already guests were coming back from the party and it was not long before he saw Hugh and Dave Grey half stumbling up the steps. Frailike rose Grey, confronted in lad half for a moment and then at a standstill.

"Hiero's unuse or wants to fight?" he said thickly. "A young friend I will oblige you are where with east O'Hara at now time—except tonight.
You must regard what as great honor for I am not accustomed to fight with any man that is not actual need to fight with him."

And he waved the boy away with such an insolent gesture that the lad knew no other course with an only than to sift him in any way possible, snatched his knife from his belt.
He heard a cry of surprise and horror from Hugh and a long hand caught his upraise. "Wait!"

"Put it back," said Dave sternly.
The dazed boy obeyed and Dave laid him upstairs.

They talked to the lad about the importance of his actions, but in Dave he was inclined to stand him off and his action. Next morning, however, when the party was set back to Red Oaks, Erskine felt a difference in the atmosphere that made him uneasy.

Barbara alone seemed unharmed and he was unable to guess that she had not been told of the incident. Hugh was distractedly silent and angry for an other reason as well. He had wanted to ask young Grey to leave him of their party and his father had not let him do it because he was another son less than him—but another son less than him—ever. Hugh and Grey and his family were in his favor with Lord Denman.

As yet Dave did not make no explanation or excuse for his young friend but he soon made up his mind that it would be wise to offer a little explanation as soon as possible which was simply that he had seen the lad and he had not yet had his chance to train him up.

He could get there on foot and he got there on foot. Dave said he got there on foot.

He could get there on foot and he got there on foot. At the river gate they turned to wave a last goodby and disappeared in the woods. At that hour the boy was over in the wilderness ahead of them had cooled a squirrel that he had a shot for his breakfast and was gnawing it to the bones. Soon he rose and at a trot sped on toward his home beyond the Cumberland. And with him etched with a lid on the seal of his brain, sped two images—Barbara's face as he last saw it and the face of young Dave Grey.

"I tried to stab them unarmed and without warning," said Hugh shortly.

At the instant the boy caught sight of Barbara. Her eyes filled with tears, met his in one long sad, silent look and she turned noiselessly back into the house. Noiselessly back into the garden, slipped down

By John L. Keffler.

DUNBAR, June 20.—"When it comes to teaching patriotism in a school and making of the children of foreigners real Americans we have no hesitancy in saying that James M. Rhodes, teacher of High House School, Georges Township, must be placed in the very front rank. It was our privilege to visit his school on Flag Day, and we were never more agreeably surprised. Here in an old-fashioned, one-room school house, considered fine in its day but now antiquated by the onward march of modern educational demands, its seats filled with pupils at least 75 per cent of whom were the children of foreigners, all so interested in their work and so edified by their teacher who, in spite of his more than three score and 10 years, is a real live wire in the school room, that the old school house was entirely forgotten in the presence of a modern intensely patriotic school."

The school recitations were fine and the patriotic recitations very appropriate and of the very highest order. Foreign children told what they loved about the flag and the school, and the earnest way in which they proclaimed their patriotic recitations was cumulative proof of the excellent work their teacher had done.

It was interesting to watch the calling and the dismissal of the school. On the tap of the bell a pupil designated by the teacher took the flag and led the procession into the building and around the seats inside until each pupil was in his place, and then after saluting the flag all were quietly dismissed ready for work. On dismissal the pupils, at a rapid turn to the aisles, at a second rap they rose to their feet facing the front of the building where "Old Glory" hung in full display, at a third rap all bowing saluted the flag at a fourth faced about, and at a fifth marched in order from the room.

About 20 patrons were present and warmly expressed their appreciation of the teacher and the excellent work done, and expressed the hope that Mr. Rhodes might be the teacher again next term. Several addresses were made.

If all schools were like High House there would be no cause to fear for the loyalty and patriotism of the American of tomorrow.

Mr. Rhodes is the oldest teacher in the county being in his 74th year, but in spirit as young and enthusiastic as an ambitious beginner.

The Children's Day exercises at the M. E. Church here Sunday evening were very fine and much appreciated by a large congregation.

Rev. Fred Didur will preach the Pechin Chapei Thursday night. In addition to the local singers the choir of Cove Run Free Methodist Church will accompany the pastor and assist in the service.

Mr. and Mrs. David A. Keffler have moved from Clarion to their new home near Peebles and will make Dunbar township their permanent residence.

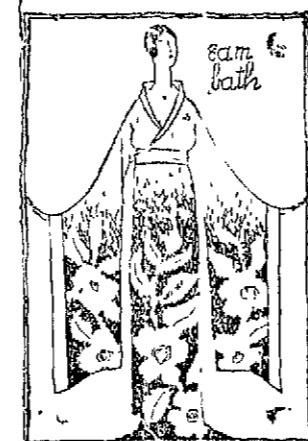

Mrs. Walter S. Martin of Fayette, who underwent an operation at the Uniontown Hospital last week, is reported as doing as well as could be expected.

Her recovery is reported to be but a matter of time. Her mother, Mrs. Lois McClain, and other members of her family were to visit her Thursday.

Miss Virginia McClain, a trained nurse of Pittsburgh, who had been visiting her mother and other relatives here for a fortnight, returned to her work Friday evening.

The honcom of Abraham Briscoe or Ferguson road was broken into Friday night last and a dozen fine spring birds large enough to eat are missing.

Dinner Gowns
$29.75 to $75

The signal—dinner is served!

And whatever one's appetite, one's appearance is enhanced and made radiant if one dons a frock of lacy elegance.

The straight line is the accepted mode for dinner. And you can transform a diet into a banquet providing the dinner frock fulfills the requirements of good taste.

Which it will do if you buy it here!

Jade, coral, black are the colors. And the desirability of already charming frocks is increased by generous sprinklings of the modish sequins.

Dance Frocks
A Silk to Make Them

Every woman knows how true it is that—"The gayer the frock, the gayer the dance."

So, as a sort of dance insurance, we earnestly advise all of you to immediately plan at least one frock in this new material—Juicy Prints.

It's a silk—with bright little figures printed on varicolored backgrounds and comes in such satisfying summery shades as canary yellow, coral, white and the very new one—Lark. $2.75 a yard. (Main Floor)

Latest modes in ready-to-wear dance frocks will be found on the Second Floor.
